

Blog

You are here: Home / Blog / Uncategorized / Outlander film locations in Edinburgh

Outlander film locations in Edinburgh

February 4, 2018 / / by Edinburgh Walks

We have been asked to add some pictures of a couple of locations from the TV serial Outlander. We've chosen to show photographs from two sites in the Royal Mile area of Edinburgh as they are within reach of most visitors and can be visited as part of a guided walk with Edinburgh Walks (see www.edinburghwalks.com).

Tweeddale Court is a location from Season 3, Episode 6 'A. Malcolm' showing scenes from 18th Century Edinburgh.

Entrance to Tweeddale Court, Royal Mile, Edinburgh

View of the upper apartments in Tweeddale Court, Royal Mile, Edinburgh.

Bakehouse Close is also a location from Season 3 and is known as Carfax Close in the programme. This is where we find "Alexander Malcolm's print shop" where the characters Jamie and Claire get back together again after some time apart.

Bakehouse Close looking towards The Royal Mile (Canongate), Edinburgh

Bakehouse Close with the white Acheson House adjacent.

And a still photo from the Outlander programme;

And how Bakehouse Close looks in the episode.

For visits to these and other Outlander locations within Edinburgh, please use contact@edinburghwalks.com for more information or look at our Walks page.

Share this entry

© Edinburgh Walks | Website by Roslin Design

This site uses cookies: Find out more.

Okay, thanks